

ELIZABETH KOST, DVM

Emergency & Critical Care

Dr. Kost began at one of our hospitals as an assistant before receiving a master's degree in plant ecology from Virginia Commonwealth University. Her work with us and as a professional dog trainer led to her decision to become a veterinarian. She graduated from Ross University of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Kost has a special interest in emergency medicine and behavioral medicine. We are delighted to have her back in Richmond and as a part of our team once again—now in an entirely new capacity.
