

ELIZABETH MOSES, DVM

Emergency

Dr. Moses grew up in Eastern Canada and earned her undergraduate degree in Animal Science at the Dalhousie University, in Truro NS, Canada. During this time she realized her love for animals and decided to pursue a career in veterinary medicine. She graduated from Atlantic Veterinary Collage in beautiful PEI Canada and went on to complete a one-year small animal and emergency medicine rotating internship at Virginia Veterinary Centers in Richmond. Dr. Moses has since moved to the Fredericksburg area, and is happy to join the team at our Fredericksburg hospital. In her spare time she enjoys shopping, traveling, watching horror movies, and spending time with her fur-baby, Vonne.
